Today's Panelists

John Mullen, Partner, Nelson Levine de Luca & Horst

John F. Mullen leads Nelson Levine de Luca & Hamilton's Privacy and Data Security Practice. John focuses on preparation for and defense of network security and privacy data breach events. He presents on privacy and data security issues for insurers and brokers via national webinar/phone conferences and live presentations (NetDiligence, ACI, CPCU, RIMS and PLUS), and publishes on cyber/data loss issues in various publications, including multiple articles in Best's Review.

John's privacy and data security team and practice centers on immediate and comprehensive response to data events. Through this approach, John concentrates on determining the scope of data loss through forensics, providing advice on triggered and/or potential customer and government duties, public relations management, analyzing data/document handling, retention and compliance, as well as managing appropriate customer remedies, litigation hold/e-discovery requirements, indemnity shifting analysis, class action and multidistrict litigation (MDL) issues. Specifically, John serves as Breach Event Counsel and uses a pool of independent third-party professional service providers with capabilities and experience to help organizations and businesses execute their data breach response. In this role, John provides data breach legal consultation services and assists insureds as they manage the vendors needed to address a data breach event: computer forensics, notification, call centers, public relations, crisis communications, fraud consultation, credit monitoring and identity restoration.
